DISCLOSURE REGARDING BACKGROUND INVESTIGATION

(Standalone Notice Required by the Fair Credit Reporting Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 1681 et seq.)

Rise & Shine ABA LLC ("the Company") may obtain one or more consumer reports or investigative consumer reports (commonly known as "background checks") about you from a consumer reporting agency for employment purposes. This disclosure is being provided to you in a separate document, in accordance with the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act ("FCRA").

What the Report May Contain

A consumer report obtained for employment purposes may contain information about your character, general reputation, personal characteristics, mode of living, and credit standing. Specifically, the report may include information regarding:

- Criminal history, including arrests pending adjudication and convictions, to the extent permitted by federal, state, and local law
- Verification of prior employment, including dates, positions, and reasons for separation
- Verification of educational history, degrees, and certifications
- Verification of professional licenses and credentials, including your Registered Behavior Technician (RBT) or Board Certified Behavior Analyst (BCBA) certification, where applicable
- Driving and motor vehicle records, where relevant to the position
- Sex offender registry searches
- Searches of federal and state government exclusion and sanctions databases (including the OIG List of Excluded Individuals/Entities, the System for Award Management exclusions, and the New York State OMIG list of Restricted, Terminated, or Excluded Providers)
- Credit history, only where permitted by law and only where relevant to the position
- Other public-record and public-source information relevant to your fitness for the position

Investigative Consumer Reports

The Company may also obtain an investigative consumer report about you. An investigative consumer report is a consumer report — or a portion of one — in which information about your character, general reputation, personal characteristics, or mode of living is obtained through personal interviews with your neighbors, friends, former employers, associates, references, or other persons with whom you are acquainted, or who may have knowledge concerning any of these items.

You have the right to request, in writing, a complete and accurate disclosure of the nature and scope of any investigative consumer report the Company has requested about you. The Company will respond to such a request within a reasonable time after receipt.

Your Rights Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act

You have rights under the FCRA, including the right to know what is in your consumer report, the right to dispute inaccurate or incomplete information, and the right to request a free copy of your report under certain circumstances. A separate document titled "A Summary of Your Rights Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act," published by the federal Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, is being provided to you together with this Disclosure. Please read it carefully before signing the Authorization on page 2.

Consumer Reporting Agency

The consumer reporting agency that will prepare the report is:

Name: _____

Address: _____

Phone: _____

Website: _____

You may contact the consumer reporting agency directly to obtain additional information about the nature and scope of the report.

Ongoing Reports During Employment

If you are hired, the Company may, to the extent permitted by federal, state, and local law, obtain additional consumer reports or investigative consumer reports about you at any time during your employment, without providing additional disclosure or obtaining additional authorization, for purposes including but not limited to: continued evaluation of your fitness for the position, monitoring required certifications and exclusion-list status, and compliance with payer and regulatory requirements.

You may revoke this ongoing authorization at any time by providing written notice to the Company; however, revocation may impact your continued employment in a position requiring ongoing background verification.
